Dear [REDACTED],

Re: Part 24 National Gas Rules exemptions for pipelines PPL4, PPL87 and PPL93

I refer to OGT Energy Pty Ltd's applications, received 24 October 2025, seeking exemptions for pipelines PPL4, PPL87 and PPL93 under Part 24 of the National Gas Rules (NGR).

The AER has assessed the applications and, on the basis of the information that you have provided, has determined to grant exemptions for pipelines PPL4, PPL87 and PPL93 under subrule 611(3)(a) of Part 24 of the NGR. These exemptions will take effect on 19 December 2025 and expire on 1 August 2030 to align with the expiry date of the exemptions granted by the AER under Part 10 of the NGR for these pipelines.

In accordance with rule 611(10) of the NGR, OGT Energy Pty Ltd is required to notify the AER without delay if circumstances change such that any of these pipelines no longer qualify for their exemption under Part 24 of the NGR.

Rule 611(9) of the NGR requires the AER to establish, publish and maintain a register of exemptions under Part 24 of the NGR. The new exemptions for the PPL4, PPL87 and PPL93 pipelines will be published on the register on the AER's website.

As required by rule 611(8) of the NGR, the AER will notify the Australian Energy Market Operator of each exemption granted.

Please contact [REDACTED], if you have further questions regarding this matter.

Yours sincerely
