1 OVERVIEW

1.1 Introduction

Ausgrid must prepare a document (i.e. this negotiating framework) that sets out the procedures to be followed by Ausgrid and applicants who wish to be provided with Negotiated Distribution Services.

Whilst the Australian Energy Regulator (AER) has not classified any distribution services as negotiated for the control period from 1 July 2019 to 30 June 2024, there is some scope under the National Electricity Rules (NER) for services provided by Ausgrid's transmission network to be treated as Negotiated Distribution Services. These are explained further under "Background".

The minimum requirements for the framework are generally set out in the NER – Part D of Chapter 6, clauses 6.7.5(c) and (d). These requirements are comprehensive and include:

- Requirements around provision of information, including specific cost information
- Specified timeframes for negotiation (to be specified by Ausgrid in proposing its negotiating framework)
- Disputes must be resolved on the basis of the dispute resolution process set out in the Law and the NER
- The framework must not be inconsistent with the requirements of rules 5.3, 5.3A, 5.3AA and 5.4A of the NER.

1.2 Background

The NER set out in Part D of Chapter 6 that:

- Ausgrid must prepare a document setting out the procedure to be followed during negotiations between it and any person who wishes to receive a Negotiated Distribution Service as to the terms and conditions of access for the provision of the service (clause 6.7.5(a))
- The negotiating framework required by the NER must comply with, and be consistent with, the applicable requirements of a distribution determination applying to the provider
- The negotiating framework must comply with and be consistent with the applicable requirements of Part D of Chapter 6 which set out the minimum requirements for a negotiating framework.

This document has been prepared in fulfilment of Ausgrid's obligation under Clause 6.7.5(a) to establish a negotiating framework which is to be followed during negotiations between Ausgrid and any person (known as a Service Applicant) who asks Ausgrid for access to a Negotiated Distribution Service.

A Negotiated Distribution Service is any service that is provided by Ausgrid by means of, or in connection with, Ausgrid's dual function assets that would be a negotiated transmission service under Chapter 6A of the NER. The NER treats these services as Negotiated Distribution Services.

Dual function assets are any part of Ausgrid's network which operates between 66kV and 220kV and which operates in parallel, and provides support, to the higher voltage transmission network (i.e. Ausgrid's transmission assets).

Negotiated transmission services are defined in Chapter 10 of the NER as:

1. a shared transmission service that either:
  - a. exceeds the network performance requirements (whether as to quality or quantity) (if any) as that shared transmission service is required to meet under any jurisdictional electricity legislation; or
  - b. except to the extent that the network performance requirements which that shared transmission service is required to meet are prescribed under any jurisdictional electricity legislation, exceeds or does not meet the network performance requirements (whether as to quality or quantity) as are set out in schedule 5.1a or 5.1 of the NER;

This effectively refers to a service provided by Ausgrid's transmission assets at a higher or lower standard in terms of quality or reliability than would otherwise apply to that customer's service.

2. connection services that are provided to serve a Transmission Network User, or a group of Transmission Network Users, at a single transmission network connection point, other than connection services that are provided by one Network Service Provider to another Network Service Provider to connect their networks where neither provider is a Market Network Service Provider; or

This effectively refers to a new connection to Ausgrid's transmission assets other than a connection by another network service provider.

3. services that are specified to be negotiated transmission services under rule 5.2A.4 of the NER.

Rule 5.2A.4 of the NER sets out how the various services required to connect to the transmission network are classified, including the classification of non-contestable services which must be negotiated as a negotiated transmission service.

Negotiated transmission services, as defined in the NER, do not include an above-standard system shared transmission service or a market network service.

2 AUSGRID'S NEGOTIATING FRAMEWORK

1 Application of negotiating framework

- 1.1 This negotiating framework applies to Ausgrid and each Service Applicant who has made an application in writing to Ausgrid for the provision of a Negotiated Distribution Service.
- 1.2 Ausgrid and any Service Applicant who asks Ausgrid for access to a Negotiated Distribution Service must comply with the requirements of this negotiating framework.
- 1.3 The requirements set out in this negotiating framework are additional to any requirements or obligations contained in Chapters 5, 6 and 6A of the NER, including rules 5.3, 5.3A, 5.3AA and 5.4A. In the event of any inconsistency between this negotiating framework and any other requirements in the NER, the requirements of the NER will prevail.
- 1.4 Nothing in this negotiating framework or in the NER will be taken as imposing an obligation on Ausgrid to provide any service to the Service Applicant.

2 Obligation to negotiate in good faith

- 2.1 Ausgrid and the Service Applicant must negotiate in good faith the terms and conditions of access for the provision by Ausgrid of the Negotiated Distribution Service sought by the Service Applicant.

3 Timeframe for commencing, progressing and finalising Negotiations

- 3.1 Clause 3.4 and Table 1 set out the timeframe for commencing, progressing and finalising negotiations in relation to applications for a Negotiated Distribution Service.
- 3.2 The timeframes set out in Table 1 will not apply where a timeframe is specified in Chapter 5 in relation to any application for Negotiated Distribution Services, and in that case the time period specified in Chapter 5 will apply.
- 3.3 The timeframes set out in clause 3.4 may be suspended in accordance with clause 9.
- 3.4 Timeframes:
  - (a) The specified time for commencing, progressing and finalising negotiations with a Service Applicant is as set out in Table 1.
  - (b) Ausgrid and the Service Applicant shall use reasonable endeavours to adhere to the time periods specified in Table 1 and may, by agreement, extend any such time period.
  - (c) The preliminary program finalised under C in Table 1 may be modified from time to time by agreement of the parties, where such agreement must not be unreasonably withheld. Any such amendment to the preliminary program shall be taken to be a reasonable period of time for commencing, progressing and finalising negotiations with a Service Applicant for the provision of the Negotiated Distribution Service. The requirement in clause 3.4(b) applies to the last amended preliminary program.

- 4.5 The Service Applicant must not impose any condition pursuant to clause 4.4 that would prevent Ausgrid from complying with its obligations under the NER or any other law, including but not limited to any obligation under the NER requiring Ausgrid to publish certain information.
- 4.6 A consent provided by the Service Applicant in accordance with clause 4.4 may be subject to the condition that the person to whom Ausgrid discloses the commercial information must enter into a separate confidentiality agreement with the Service Applicant.

  - (b) the terms and conditions on which Ausgrid would provide the Negotiated Distribution Service to the Service Applicant;
