8. Nature and Scope of Operations

It is the intention of MEH to take our current Queensland operation and expand nationwide. We currently manage services within embedded networks.

MEH initially has an agreement with the Body Corporate or Strata Manager to supply infrastructure, metering and billing services including electricity, gas, hot water, cold water and chilled water. This reduces the strata managers' administration and costs and lowers unit owner's levies.

MEH's role is a combination of facilities management, owning, servicing, and replacing (as required) the water plant, meters and electricity meters.

Our value added services deliver lower cost services to the unit occupiers and strata managers through superior localised service and economies of scale. MEH negotiates a bulk supply arrangement with a wholesaler (D.N.S.P.) on a master account in MEH's name. This is metered through a gateway / parent meter and supplied to individual occupiers via child meters. The individual occupiers are then billed accordingly for all services used.

Consumption data for most buildings is captured automatically via our data logging equipment on site. This data is then uploaded to both our CRM system and our in house servers. Some of the older buildings still require manual reads via radio frequency on site. This data is then uploaded to our systems once collected.

MEH does not propose to supply retail clients outside of embedded networks and will only be supplying small retail clients. In Queensland services are offered at standard gazetted rates or less, as would be the case nationally. Our client arrangements with the wholesale suppliers, who are in fact retailers themselves such as Origin Energy, AGL and Tru Energy who treat us as a large retail client and in effect become our Retailer of Last Resort supplier by default.

In relation to R.o.L.R., as we only operate in embedded networks and do not purchase from the market we could not operate as a R.o.L.R for others. In the unlikely event of a R.o.L.R event for MEH and to ensure a R.o.L.R. transfer for us was as expedient and as seamless as possible, we have expanded our risk management plan to incorporate a specific R.o.L.R plan which includes extra measures to ensure continuity of supply for our customers in the event of a major disruption. Primarily this includes extensive off-site backup systems, procedures and a disaster recovery plan and the utilisation of an externally hosted CRM and billing system. Current and historical data and information can be provided to a R.o.L.R. if we ceased to exist, as well as provide regular data transfers to A.E.M.O. if required.

9. Jurisdictions

MEH intends to expand nationwide primarily in major cities.

10. Type of Customers

MEH intends to supply to small, small market offer and large customers.

Organisational and Technical Capacity

1. Details of any previous experience as an energy retailer, or any other experience in the energy market

MEH has been operating as an on seller in Queensland in its own right under the current company structure since February 2004 and prior to that for almost two years in a partnership with a large body corporate manager. MEH has been a licensed retailer in NSW since September 2011.

MEH currently supplies electricity and gas.

MEH currently has 6500 customers and contractual commitments for a further 4000 customers to be added in the next two years as developments are finished.

MEH conducts all billing, administration, call centre, dispute resolution, customer service and enquiry services in house.

MEH seeks advice from specialised service partners in the areas of legal, energy market, printing / correspondence and systems performance.

MEH currently operates on behalf of the Bodies Corporate throughout Queensland. In this role we act as a retailer taking responsibility of all electrical energy consumed within the embedded network.

After conducting business in the Queensland retail sector for eight years we now have the required knowledge and experience to expand our operations to a national level.

2. Details of or any other relevant retail experience

MEH also provides other utilities to customers in Queensland. These services include electricity, hot water and chilled water.

3. Details of retail and/or energy experience of a person holding shares

Greg Hutley is the managing director and sole shareholder. He has 30 years experience as a commercial electrical contractor and 20 years experience operating his own electrical company and eight years of owning and operating MEH within the Queensland market with expertise in metering services.

7. Details of your human resources policy regarding employee qualifications

The MEH recruitment preference is to employ highly qualified and experienced personnel from within the electrical industry. Our policies include a combination of relevant industry experience and professional qualifications as does the engagement of contractors. A strong core of long term staff has been accumulated and is constantly supplemented.

8. Details of all training programs and training policies

Training programs vary depending on the role. We have induction manuals on a corporate level with group modifications according to position held.

After initial corporate induction training is performed on a one to one basis, building managers and billing officers are provided with a comprehensive induction manual which includes all appropriate forms, manuals, procedures and legislative policies required. A hands on training program with a designated mentor is completed before customer relations are commenced. For a sample of our policies see attachments B & C.

All new staff members are subject to a three month probationary period during which they are assessed for performance and competency. This typically occurs during this training period with the mentor and any concerns about progress or competency are addressed with management. At management's discretion the probation period may be extended to ensure our high levels of customer service and quality.

9. Business plan

See attachment D.

10. Details of Quality Assurance accreditations

At the present time MEH have no accreditation in Quality Assurance although we are currently applying for ISO 9001 accreditation by an independent party.

11. Compliance Strategy

MEH has a compliance committee consisting of the following members:

- Development Director (Chairperson)
- Managing Director
- Operations Manager
- Compliance Manager

This committee meets monthly to collectively manage and monitor regulatory requirements. It also oversees the development and implementation of compliance systems and covers the following agenda:

- Update on procedures development and implementation to bring them in conformance with AER's licensing requirements
- Disconnections update
- Complaints analysis and process improvement
- Any significant increases in Marketing complaints or media reports on marketing issues
- Report on complaints and incidents by type and corrective action undertaken
- Update on legislative developments relevant to business
- Processes that need to be developed to meet new requirements

A compliance folder has been developed which includes:

- Type 1, 2 & 3 Risk Assessment Matrices
- Compliance Plan
- Compliance Management System
- Copies of reports
- Minutes of compliance committee meetings
- Monthly complaints reporting including resolution procedures
- Monthly incident report

Our compliance obligations are also adhered to and contained within the MEH Customer Relationship Management (CRM) software. As our CRM software is a dynamic system it is updated and maintained as our obligations require.

Complainants have a choice of channels to contact MEH including phone, letter and email. When a customer complains details of the complaints are recorded into the customer's account via our CRM system.

Weekly meetings are held with the call centre staff to discuss recent complaints that have been taken and appropriate resolutions. The CRM system's compliance checklist assists in identifying any non-conformances with AER requirements.
