Hello.

I think it is important EE still conduct training for ASP's especially in regional locations that do not have access to an RTO or TAFE.

Our experiences with trying to arrange the necessary training outside of utilising EE is that It is very difficult & expensive to book our staff into something. Not to mention the RTO's cancel without warning and do not hold regular courses to attend.

Considering some training like the initial & refresher safety training are a necessity I think it would hurt all ASP's business if this was not offered by EE.

Thank you
